

Programme Management

Delivering your commitments on time and within budget

Persides has a proven track record in delivering complex programmes with experience ranging from complete turnkey solutions for Small to Medium Enterprises to helping Prime Contractors mobilise teams to deliver multi-million pound programmes as well as meeting short term transient requirements

Capability

Persides has a core team of high calibre consultants with a depth of experience gained from industry and tri-service military backgrounds. Persides consultants can be mobilised to deliver class leading programme management services tailored to suit the client's needs. All Persides consultants are supported by an experienced team that have access to a wide range of proven tools and methodologies.

Programme Mobilisation

Persides can assist you in mobilising a team to deliver your programme. Whether it is calling upon a cross functional network of associates and core staff for short term transient needs or rapidly setting up, recruiting and establishing a programme office, Persides can take care of all aspects of mobilisation and programme delivery.

Programme Controls

Persides understands the importance of accurately monitoring the performance of a programme to ensure that it is delivered within schedule and financial targets. Having established a baseline, Persides use a range of industry leading tools and Earned Value Management techniques to track progress and report meaningful and accurate metrics that allow programme boards to make timely and informed decisions to ensure the required programme performance is achieved.

Project Management

Persides consultants have a wealth of experience in managing Work Packages and Control Accounts using proven techniques and methodologies such as Prince2 and Six Sigma. Persides invests significant effort on developing relationships through an integrated project team approach across customers, users and suppliers with emphasis on communication, open setting of commonly agreed targets, and sharing of key project performance metrics.

Risk Management

Persides consultants have experience of managing risk on high profile MoD programmes and are able to produce a schedule-based risk management strategy to suit your programme needs. This will focus on identifying and managing significant risks with clearly defined and costed action plans and strategies.

Sub-Contract & Supply Chain Management

Persides considerable knowledge of systems engineering and requirements flow down enables us to manage sub contracts and suppliers. This may range from purchasing off the self items to fully integrating tier one suppliers into an integrated project team. Persides uses shared objectives and incentives to ensure that maximum value is added throughout the supply chain.

Supporting Disciplines

Persides comprehensive Programme Management capability is augmented with in-house competence to deliver a complimentary suite of disciplines required for successful programme delivery including:

- Training
