This service is managed in-house utilising our extensive database of external instructors. This approach allows us to remain flexible to our customer driver training needs, and gives us the opportunity to place specific instructors with specific driving skills to the appropriate customer.

All instructors are professional instructors, many of whom are Advanced Driving Instructors, ex police officers, ex forces instructors or ex race and rally drivers.

We have access to a full range of vehicles to support the driver training programmes, including cars, racing cars, HGVs, 4x4s and sports cars.

There is a choice of either 'off the shelf' courses or bespoke courses tailored to customers' specific needs. These are typically ½-day, 1-day or 2-day courses and are usually a mix of classroom, road and/or track applications.
